Profile

Experience in Digital Marketing and a data-driven approach built through web optimization, performance analysis, and digital strategy. I have developed my career across multiple marketing channels in diverse environments — including agencies, startups, and international settings — gaining a 360-degree vision that spans from data analysis to brand strategy, and from content management to acquisition. My goal is to grow as a Marketing Strategist in an environment where I can drive real, measurable impact.

W Wolly - Marketing for app
03/26 - in progress see more ↗

Wolly was born out of a real need: to understand where money goes each month, without the complexity. I am building this app from the very first line of research — covering desk research, user research, product definition, design systems, and go-to-market strategies — while managing the entire marketing process independently and documenting every step publicly. Because I believe the best way to prove how you work is to show it, not just talk about it.

Work experience
